Toxic fumes Area schools and residents evacuated

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

A fire which routed students from two Romulus schools on Friday, blazed again on Tuesday afternoon prompting the evacuation of students and nearby residents.

Volunteer firefighters who had battled the pallet fire on the one-acre site of Mendrick's Dump near Ecorse Road last week, returned to the scene early Tuesday afternoon when a fire at the same site was reported.

Romulus Junior High School and Wick Elementary School on Wick Road were evacuated early Tuesday morning as a result of action by the Wayne County Health Department, according to assistant environmental health director Bruce Davis of the Wayne County Health Department.

Romulus police also announced that at 12:45 p.m. area residents were evacuated from Cogswell Road between Ecorse and Tyler, on Tyler Road between Shook and Cogswell, on Shook Road between Wick and Tyler and Ecorse Road between the railroad tracks and Cogswell.

"We received a call from the school system regarding a nuisance odor getting into the ventilation system. We reacted to their call and closed the schools. Until the problem is resolved the schools will stay closed. City officials will give the all clear," Davis said.

Joel Carr, Romulus Public Schools administrator, said Tuesday that school personnel could smell an odor and, because of the nature of the fire, they feared it could be toxic. "The site of the pallet fire was a dump and the health department suggested we not take a chance," Carr said.

The Red Cross has temporarily established an emergency shelter at Mt. Pleasant School for residents evacuated from the vicinity of the blaze, police said.

At 2 p.m. on Tuesday, Mayor Beverly McAnally, Police Chief Charles Wilmoth, Emergency Preparedness Director Margaret Leduc, Romulus Fire Inspector Charles Bradley and officials from the Department of Natural Resources and the Environmental Protection Agency were on the scene.

This is the eighth such fire within the past two weeks to strike in the city of Romulus. City officials said firefighters are exhausted and $25,000 worth of equipment is damaged. Two more fires occurred over the weekend. All were pallet fires except for the fire at the Romulus Department of Public Works two weeks ago, during which stored tires were burned.

The Romulus City Council passed an emergency resolution at the Monday night meeting which approved money to pay for the purchase of a new pumper and new hoses. The cost is expected to amount to $25,000. However the council action didn't arrive soon enough to aid local firefighters yesterday.

Fireman had fought a raging fire for almost 12 hours at the same site last Friday. According to Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks, the fire smoldered all weekend. Banks said the council action was necessary "for the health and safety of the community."

On Sunday, Romulus firemen were again summoned to the Drysdale and Sons on Middlebelt Road where they struggled with two other fire departments two weeks ago to extinguish a pallet fire on six acres. This time, the firemen were able to control the situation with four to five hours. "It wasn't so bad," fire sources said.

No firefighters have been injured in the series of blazes. An official report on the latest fire was not available at press time Tuesday.

Again Romulus volunteer fire fighters battled the blazes of three fires this week. The latest fire forced the evacuation of about 200 area residents and over 1,000 school children. Officials are investigating the blaze. No one was injured, according to Romulus police. ANP photos by Guy Warren/staff photographer

Police investigate murder-suicide

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

A 24-year-old Romulus woman was shot and killed and her 31-year-old male companion was seriously wounded by the woman's former boyfriend who later killed himself, according to Romulus police.

Killed in the shooting was Jacqueline Carter, while her male companion, Michael Fuller, 31, of Detroit, suffered a gun shot wound to the chest. Fuller is reported in serious condition at Annapolis Hospital.

Police said the gunman was George Lee Sandusky, 34, of Inkster who took his life after killing Carter. Carter's 4-year-old daughter was in the dwelling when the shooting occurred, according to Lt. Kenneth Kraus, of the Romulus Detective Bureau.

"We believe that this was a case of boyfriend-girlfriend trouble that culminated in this tragedy," Kraus said. "We have concluded that it was a murder-suicide, however, our investigation won't be complete until we get a lab report."

Police said that shortly after 10:30 a.m. last Thursday, Sandusky went to the Carter's house and was permitted entry by her into the dwelling.

According to police reports Fuller and Carter's 4-year-old daughter also were in the house.

"We don't know what words were exchanged or what precipitated the eventual shooting, but we believe that Sandusky opened fire with a small caliber weapon, fatally striking Carter and injuring Fuller," Kraus said.

Fuller managed to escape the house and came upon two men repairing a car. Before collapsing, Fuller managed to tell the men he had been shot before he collapsed. The men called police.

Veda Reed, 60, of Romulus was killed in a collision between two automobiles on Middlebelt Road early Friday morning.

She was a passenger in a car driven by a relative, Mark Berry, 30, of Knollwood Street. She had lived there also. Berry was seriously injured, according to Romulus police reports.

The driver of the other car,

Everell Price, 48, of New Boston was not injured. The accident is expected to go to Wayne County Prosecutors Office for further investigation.

Detective Ken Kraus said, "Price was headed northbound on Middlebelt Road when Berry pulled out of a driveway on the west side of the street and the two collided."

Mrs. Reed was transported to Annapolis Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival at 10 a.m., less than one hour after the accident.

Players perform and "Alice" is wonderful

By BOB DENYS

The amount of talent at Romulus High School surprised even seasoned drama teacher Phil Walker.

Walker heads the drama club in school and explains that not all kids are good at sports or academics. "Not everyone can be the top burger salesman. Kids today need these options to vent their creativity," he said.

The drama club is currently touring Romulus Elementary School with a production of "Golly Whoppers," a collection of American tall tales.

Other club members diligently rehearse for their upcoming version of "Alice in Wonderland," an adaption of Lewis Carroll's famous book, "Alice in Wonderland." The play includes such favorites as Cheshire Cat, the Mad Hatter, the Queen of Hearts and the White Knight.

"It's real zany. The setting takes place in Alice's mind. It's a fantasy play and centers around her wonderment with reality," said Walker who is credited with reviving the drama club after a five year disappearance at Romulus High School.

His long term plans include performing regularly before early elementary children in their own environment and when they get older to visit the high school for another performance.

"We get their interest built up. It teaches young people to be good socially. My role is district wide. To instill in the community an appreciation for performing arts. Let's educate our students early," he stressed.

Walker feels young people learn good communication skills. "They express their thoughts, ideas and emotions to large masses of people. Whether they realize it or not, this type of learning can't help but be an asset in their life, no matter what field they go into," he added.

Walker can often be found after school in a classroom filled with students. "They come after school because they enjoy it," he said.

He and the 35 members of the drama club are hoping to turn a profit with their production of "Alice." Drama members are so positive about their presentation they will offer a special matinee for area youth organizations at 2 p.m. Saturday, May 16. The publicity for the matinee went out to the neighboring communities of Belleville and Taylor.

"Let people remember they saw a great play and they saw it in Romulus," he said.

Public performances at Romulus High School begin at 8 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, May 15 and 16. For ticket information call 941-2170.

Enhanced 911 plan ready to 'ring'

Enhanced 911 emergency telephone service could be under way for the western Wayne County area by early fall, according to Joseph Benyo, who is coordinating the project for the Conference of Western Wayne.

At the May 8 CWW meeting, Benyo said he has completed his Enhanced 911 presentations to the townships and cities which will be affected by the implementation of the service.

Benyo reported to the conference members that the tentative service plan has been completed and is ready to be submitted to the Michigan State Police and Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

The project coordinator hopes to bring the plan before the Wayne County Board of Commissioners on June 4. Benyo said that, following the approval of the county commissioners, a public hearing will be slated and the plan could have final approval in September.

The Enhanced 911 emergency service will feature a computer screen listing of the callers' addresses. In emergency situations where people are excited or do not speak English, the computer will provide the police, ambulance or fire department with a name and address. Benyo noted in his presentations to area communities that in many instances people provide partial or incorrect addresses because they are upset. He said the Enhanced 911 will eliminate this problem and also aid young children and non-English speaking adults to report emergencies. Because the address of the caller is recorded, he said, the program should also decrease false alarms and nuisance calls to the emergency line.

In other action at the CWW meeting, subcommittees of the Solid Waste Task Force are working on strategies to deal with the anticipated future problems for member communities of the Conference of Western Wayne.

CWW Chairman Charles Griffin of Westland reported that the task force has divided into subcommittees to develop a "five-year plan update" to submit to the county and to develop alternatives for waste disposal.

Griffin said the task force is studying the feasibility of forming incinerator authorities. Under consideration, he said, is the formation of separate authorities to serve the northern and southern CWW communities.

Also under study by the CWW is a proposal to turn the operation of the district courts over to the state.

Statistics on expenses and revenues received by the district courts are being studied by the CWW. Figures on the actual costs incurred by local police, fire and building departments to support the courts are now being obtained, according to Mike Archer of Dearborn. He predicted that "court costs will be a lot more than they (the courts) think."

In the past, he said, the court revenues and expenses were evaluated without counting the cost of other city or township services provided. With these additional figures, he said, the true cost of bringing someone to the district court can be determined.

Archer added that the survey results may be used by doctoral candidates to compile information for a book on the cost of the criminal justice system.

Among those attending the meeting were Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally, Inkster Mayor Betty Miller, Van Buren Township Supervisor Lynne Hamilton, Huron Township Supervisor Ralph Dugan and Marilyn Korotney representing Sumpter Township.

County roads studied

Simply put, the problem with county roads is that they are deteriorating at a faster pace than they can be repaired.

Traffic is on the increase, roads are busier than ever and, although extensive repair work is slated, there is county-wide discontent about the condition of major streets and roads, acknowledged James Vollman, director of the Wayne County Office of Public Service.

Although there are more cars driving more miles, the increased gas mileage per vehicle has kept receipts from increasing, Vollman said. Gas taxes at 15 cents per gallon this year generate about the same amount of funds as the nine-cent-per-gallon tax did in 1980, he said. And, because there are more cars there are more demands on the roads. Inflation has also reduced the purchasing power of the available funds, he said.

He noted that the county has more than 70 miles of two lanes roads which carry traffic of more than 10,000 cars a day. Other two lane roads are carrying up to 25,000 cars a day, he said. Vollman brought a proposal to alleviate the road funding dilemma to the Conference of Western Wayne on May 8.

The proposed Economic Development Fund program would be funded out of increases in the state collected fuel tax and from Federal Discretionary Funds.

Vollman asked CWW member communities to bring the proposal back to their city or township and requested that those who support the plan, send a resolution to the state.

Resident offers city possible park land

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

A local resident recently offered the city of Romulus 22 acres of undeveloped land which Mayor Beverly McAnally considers a good site for a city recreation center.

Irving Keene is the owner of a 22-acre parcel at the southwest corner of Wick and Shook roads adjacent to Elmer Johnson Park. He told the mayor he would be interested in selling the property for park land or another municipal use. "We would be willing to enter into a sales agreement on terms which would be advantageous to the city," he said.

Keene said he would consider a trade of the land for other city-owned property. According to Romulus Tax Assessor Matt Raftary, the land has a true cash value of $36,720 and is assessed on the tax rolls at $18,360. Keene added he would also be willing to sell on land contract terms favorable to the city.

"I don't know if the land is suitable for a recreation center but I know kids always talk about the need for a local recreation center, just a place to go," said McAnally. The site borders two paved roads and is close to the junior high school, she added.

"If the land isn't suitable for a building or parkland, go no further," said Mayor Pro Tem Mary Ann Banks. "Parks are nice but they require maintenance. How many parks can a community support? If people are only using the area as a dumping ground, there is a better use. Elmer Johnson Park was a dump. Today, it's been transformed into a very nice, lovely park. But it took lots of money," she said.

"If the land isn't suitable for a building or parkland, go no further."

— Mary Ann Banks

"The city would have the advantage in a trade," said Councilman Ellis Pennington. "If you ever saw Elmer Johnson Park before, when it was a dump, you'd know the city could go in there and do something. I spent many vacation days with a bulldozer moving and covering garbage at that park. Now, Elmer Johnson is one of the nicest parks in Wayne County," he said.

Members of the city council unanimously agreed to study the feasibility of acquiring the Keene property.

CITY OF ROMULUS NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING ZONING MAP CHANGE

Notice is hereby given that the City of Romulus Planning Commission will hold a Public Hearing at 8:00 P.M. on Monday, June 1, 1987, at the City of Romulus City Hall, located at 11111 S. Wayne Road, Romulus, Michigan 48174.

The purpose of the Public Hearing is to receive comments, either verbal or written, on a proposed amendment to the City Zoning Map to rezone from MT2, Industrial Transportation District 2, to C-2, General Business District, a 1.13 acre parcel of land located on the East side of Middlebelt Road between Hildebrandt Road and Airport Drive. The subject parcel is described more specifically as follows:

The West 325 feet of the South 152 feet of the following described parcel: Beginning at the Northwest corner of Section 13, Town 3 South, Range 9 East, Romulus Township, Wayne County, Michigan; thence South 00 degrees 03 minutes 40 seconds East 1994.63 feet along the West line of said Section and North 89 degrees 48 minutes and 30 seconds East, 60.00 feet to a point on the East line of Middlebelt Road and the point of beginning; proceeding thence North 89 degrees 48 minutes 30 seconds East 1250.66 feet to a point; thence South 00 degrees 07 minutes West 257.55 feet to a point; thence South 89 degrees 48 minutes 30 seconds West 1249.60 feet to a point on the East line of Middlebelt Road; thence North 00 degrees 03 minutes 40 seconds West along the East line of Middlebelt Road 257.55 feet to the point of beginning containing 7.39 acres. Parcel Identification No. 050-99-0003-004.

The following sketch illustrates the general location of the proposed rezoning:

All interested citizens are encouraged to attend and will be given an opportunity to comment on said rezoning. Written comments may be submitted no later than 12:00 noon, Monday, June 1, 1987, and addressed to the Building Department at the above address.

Prompt dam repair essential

During the past several weeks we have reported on the suspected unsafe condition of the French Landing Dam on Belleville Lake. Now, those suspicions have been officially confirmed by an underwater inspection and a subsequent report by an engineering firm.

The worst fears of the lakefront dwellers, sportsmen and waterfront businesses have been confirmed—the lake level will not be raised to its usual summer status. In addition, based on an order from the Federal Energy Regulatory Commission, the lake level is slated to be lowered by an additional six to eight feet. Belleville Lake will not be restored to the level needed for maximum usage as a recreational facility until extensive repairs have made the dam safe.

In an April 22 editorial we supported the "safety first" responsibility of Van Buren Township officials in making the difficult and highly-unpopular decision to keep the lake at its winter level. Based on the information reported by the engineering firm, the Van Buren Township board made the only possible decision—to protect the lives and property of those downstream by lowering the level of the lake.

We wish to applaud the board and Supervisor Lynne Hamilton on their handling of this difficult and controversial decision. First, Hamilton appointed two respected community leaders, Ronald Hink and Robert O'Keefe, to serve on an ad hoc Lake Level Committee with him. The three men, with three diverse perspectives, worked diligently to research the problem and presented an in-depth assessment of the situation to the total board. To its credit, the township board did not waver under the pressure of some individuals who have threatened "to remember you at election time." Also to their credit, the majority of the township residents have accepted the findings of the engineering study and the subsequent decision by the township board to place safety first.

We wish to applaud the efforts of Rep. James Kosteva for placing the $600,000 request for dam repairs in the appropriation supplemental bill and working for its approval by the House of Representatives. The grant request, approved last week, can provide approximately 60 percent of the projected total cost to repair the dam.

It now remains for the Michigan Senate to approve a similar bill for approval of the funds. We would encourage Sen. William Faust, Sen. John Engler and the remainder of the senate to approve this bill when it comes before them in the next few weeks. In addition to correcting the obvious danger to the downstream residents, the restoring of the French Landing Dam and the full utilization of Belleville Lake is important not only to the residents of Van Buren Township and the city of Belleville but to fishermen, water skiers, boaters and other sportsmen from all over southeastern Michigan who share in the use of the recreational facilities of Belleville Lake—the only major lake in Wayne County.

Opposites will attract

As a public service, I am going to explain what the phrase "the opposite sex" really means. This is particularly timely in light of the fast approach of June, the month usually known for weddings. There may be many an unknowing innocent about to repeat nuptial vows without being cognizant of the full meaning of this euphemism.

The full explanation is simple. It means that no matter what you might do, your chosen life mate will do the opposite. Simple, huh? Now, I do not offer this revelation lightly, but after years of painstaking research. That and gossip with my co-workers which everyone knows is the most reliable source of information transfer available today, computers included.

As an example, I spent Mother's Day attempting to control my frustration while my spouse adjusted the VCR. Evidentially, these contraptions have to be tuned in to each channel somehow, and it is a painstaking and nerve wracking ordeal. Now, what I would have done is simply ignore the unfriendly device and just watch the television—but, no. My husband who, typically, I'm learning wants all things mechanical to function with the precision of a drill team, insisted on adjusting the thing-amajig.

My son and I, who incidentally were attempting to watch a movie during my darling's burst of technical frenzy, gave up after an hour or so. He fell asleep, and I fumed...quietly.

sue willett speaking

Now, for the benefit of those newlyweds and those just about to marry, you can always tell when your spouse is about to have one of these fits. It is always, I repeat, always, preceded by the statement, "This will only take a minute, honey." Always.

One of my favorite co-workers, Joan Dyer, explained to me that she recently made the mistake of leaving a note asking her husband to check the bathroom drain. I repeat, she asked only that he "check the bathroom drain."

Upon her arrival home after a long, long hard day, she found every towel she owned soaked through, grout smeared on nearly every tile in her bathroom and assorted drain pieces scattered like the bones of a victim down the hallway of her home.

Joan and I agree that if someone asked us to "check" the bathroom drain, and we found it less than satisfactory, we'd either buy a bottle of drain cleaner and pour the junk down the drain or call a plumber. But that is not the way of the opposite sex.

I watch, perhaps, at the most, maybe, an hour of television or so each week. Never more. I don't particularly hate television, I just don't have time for it. But when I want to watch, say, L.A. Law, I don't want to spend the hour getting the stupid "Rabbit" contraption on top of the television to work. But those words are almost inevitable—"Do you hear a humming? This will only take a minute." No, I don't hear a humming, it sounds fine to me, sounds good, no problem. But I'm too late, the poor rabbit is being reprogrammed.

If I want a picture hung, I take a nail, a hammer (or a shoe if I can't find the hammer) and put the thing up. My beloved gets a special hanging kit, a hook, a tempered nail, a yardstick, a roll of specially manufactured picture-hanging wire, and what looks like a slide rule and makes sure that everything is perfect, that the nail is in the stud and that the picture is absolutely straight. If I hang it crookedly, I put a piece of tape on the back to hold it straight. Nail polish will work in a pinch.

It goes on, be forewarned, in every home across the country. It is, to be somewhat indelicate, a fact of life. Men and women approach household repairs in an entirely different manner and with an attitude as dissimilar as mine and Oliver North's.

Of course, when that stupid red light is flashing on the dashboard of the car, or I can't make the computer do what I tell it to do, I'm somewhat appreciative of the mechanical inclinations of my mate. Okay, maybe a little more than somewhat.

After all, I didn't marry him ONLY for his looks.

Responsible health

There are many things for which we might rightly attempt to hold others responsible...but our personal health is not one of them.

Physical as well as mental health must be an area of individual accountability and should never be put upon others.

There was a time when limited access to medical knowledge and care may have placed a greater burden on our attending physician to "take care of us." Visions of the country doctor being called to attend to our needs come to mind.

I have little doubt that even in that day, the country doctors of America frequently told their patients, "You must take better care of yourself."

Sadly, too many of us feel that our health is something that we can abuse for long periods of time, yet set right if "it gets bad enough." Too late we often discover that although we thought we knew where the line was, we realize that our judgment was flawed. our judgment was flawed.

When we drive our automobile and exceed the legal and safe limit, we may get away with it for long periods of time. Yet we often seem surprised when the long arm of the law, reaches out and catches us "speeding". The obit column is full of names of people who got caught speeding with their health. Let's face it, we probably take better care of our cars and pets than of our own health.

There was a time when our doctor could tell us that a medical problem was God's will, or beyond our medical knowledge, and we would accept our fate.

This is not to say that we can ignore divine will, or think that everything can be cured. Yet today, we have access to medical know how accumulated from the dawn of mankind. Within the grasp of most of us are state-of-the-art medical facilities, ultra modern emergency rooms, medical doctors with all manner of specialties, osteopathic doctors, chiropractors, and nutritionalists.

Additionally, our public libraries and bookstores are filled with volumes detailing medical problems, cases and solutions. The information, professional assistance and facilities are with limited exception, available if we are inclined to seek "wellness".

Then why, we might wonder, aren't people well? For openers, it is because too few of us practice preventive medicine. Waiting until the symptoms are raging may be escapable when we have a head cold. It however can be painful, expensive, and even terminal when dealing with the more serious illnesses.

The other reason we are not perpetually well, rather than perpetually ill, is that we either fail or refuse to listen to our bodies own feedback. When our internal system either whispers or even screams to us that we have a problem, we turn deaf.

The body's nervous system is a warning network that sends signals to our brain command center in an attempt to limit or prevent damage.

When we fail to listen to what the body is telling us, we sustain unnecessary damage, pain and suffering. They say that death is nature's way of telling us to slow down. Death is, in fact, the extreme price we pay for an inability or unwillingness to listen and heed.

"I didn't think it was that serious," "I thought I had it under control," "I was too busy to get help," are but a few of the excuses heard regularly by doctors from their patients.

When we hammer a nail and miss, hitting our thumb, the body tends to suggest by way of the central nervous system, that it would be a good idea if we stopped hammering on our anatomy.

Now, as simplistic as that sounds, that is not at all dissimilar to what occurs when we sense pain, see unusual bleeding, swelling, discoloration, unusual growths, or all manner of other signs of ill health.

I am not suggesting that we become medical practitioners without licenses. What I advocate is that we choose an attitude that our normal state of existence will be physical and mental well being, not perpetual sickness.

It is after all an attitude, a choice...and a way of life. Here's to your good health. See you next week.

Band uniforms 'sought for all'

To the Editor:

Where was the Wayne-Westland board of education when Franklin Junior High was raising money for their band uniforms? My daughter worked hard on a fund raiser for uniforms, yet I saw no support from the board or anyone else! The band didn't make enough for all the band members to get uniforms. I challenge the board to also support the junior high as well as the high school in the Wayne-Westland district.

Van Buren adds new social worker

Van Buren teachers, principals and counselors attended the May 11 school board meeting to voice their support for the hiring of an additional social worker.

The hiring was approved by the board, but their decision required a separate motion to make an exception to the hiring policy deadline.

Because of the current lack of personnel to provide services and complete required records, the district is out of compliance with federal regulations and is in danger of losing funds under the guidelines for special education, according to Superintendent Dr. Elvin Peets.

Administrators were unsure of the steps which could be taken against the district for being out of compliance, but admitted that the loss of funds is a possibility.

In her support of the hiring, Trustee Connie Brinkerhoff said the two social workers "have spread themselves too thin." She said their work load was at crisis proportions with the many serious situations the two workers dealt with on a daily basis.

Other teachers noted an increase in child abuse, attempted suicides, drug problems and other serious situations in their plea for the additional social worker.

One counselor outlined a recent morning when she met with a female student who had no place to live, counseled another who has a terminally ill parent, dealt with a substance abuse problem and another situation which she could not comment on - all before 8:15 a.m. These situations, the counselor said, are all problems which need extensive counseling.

Another teacher commented, "We have students who are bleeding and we don't even have a Band-Aid."

Letter aids in 'friendly divorce'

EX-HUSBAND SAYS EX-WIFE OWES HIM MONEY

INTERVIEW SYNOPSIS :

Mr. D and his wife had a friendly divorce. He was really a good guy about the whole thing. The divorce provided however, that the ex-Mrs. D pay monies to Mr. D. He didn't hound her, and of course, she didn't pay. He has finally had it and wants his money. The following letter was sent.

Dear C:

I am sorry that this letter has to be written as I would have hoped that your obligations, as clearly set forth in our judgement of divorce, would have been met by you. Despite the fact that we have had numerous conversations during which I indicated that I had no intention of forgiving this indebtedness, you apparently have not taken me seriously.

Attached please find a schedule of payments, interest and balance due since the inception of this transaction, March 21, 1980. As is clear, the balance owed to me is $6,231.88 as of April 3, 1986. Interest will continue to run until this amount is paid in full.

There is no question about your ability to pay this obligation, and by this letter I demand remittance in full. The equity in the ex-marital home is more than adequate to secure an equity loan from any financial institution.

In the event that I do not hear from you within 10 days of this letter in writing,

letter writer

ginny eades

regarding your intentions, I will begin immediate action to foreclose on the lien recorded against the house. I am not setting forth a threat as I would most prefer to resolve this matter amicably, however, I will avail myself of my remedies under the law. I have, from 1980 to the present, been extremely considerate in not aggressively collecting the amount due. I will not continue in this matter.

Sincerely, Mr. D

COMMENT:

Both parties did some talking. As is often the case when a letter of this type is written - of such a personal nature - I often don't get an exact resolution. This is a sensitive matter, and there are two sides to every story. The letter, nevertheless, got some communication action, if not a full resolution.

Changes are being made in the way long distance users in your area place some operator-handled calls.

These changes affect Michigan Bell customers having phone numbers beginning with 397.

This is an informational message about your phone service from Charlene Jones-Mitchell, your Michigan Bell Corporate Affairs Manager.

"These telephone service changes concern only operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area. They apply to collect, credit card, person-to-person calls, calls billed to a third number, and requests for assistance. Some customers will need to contact their long distance companies for new instructions on how to place such calls. To find out if and how the service changes may affect your service, we ask you to read the following explanation."

An explanation of the changes in your operator-assistance service for calls outside your Michigan Bell long distance calling area (interLATA calls).

How operator-assisted calls were placed before. If you wanted operator assistance to place a long distance call, you dialed "0," or "0" plus the area code (if required), and the phone number you wanted and an operator put the call through for you.

How these calls are placed now. If the long distance service on the phone you are using is provided by a company that offers operator services and you want operator assistance to place a call, you dial "0," plus the area code (if required), and the phone number and an operator will assist you. To reach the long distance operator for additional assistance, you must dial "00." (Important: If you dial "0" without the phone number, you will get a Michigan Bell operator who can place calls within your Michigan Bell area only.)

If the long distance service on the phone you're using is provided by a long distance company that does not offer operator services, you must contact that long distance company to get instructions on how to place operator-assisted long distance calls.

Please note: If you dial "0," plus the area code, and the number, you may get a recording or no response. Further, if you dial "0" without the number, you will get a Michigan Bell operator who will refer you to your long distance company for further instructions.

If you are calling from a pay phone, continue to use the instructions posted on the phone. Again, you should contact your long distance company for new instructions on how to place operator-handled long distance calls outside your Michigan Bell calling area. If you have any other questions about the changes, please call Michigan Bell's Let's Talk Center. The toll-free number is 1 800 555-5000.

Please watch your Michigan Bell bill inserts for further information.

Gamble turns to gain

Canton carton firm is stacking up the profits

By SHERRY WOODARD
ANP Staff Writer

business profile

In December of 1986, entrepreneur John Schamante of Beverly Hills, Michigan took a giant gamble and moved his newly acquired folding carton company to a dilapidated, remote building in far southeast Canton Township.

Today that company - Acme Packaging - is the only one in southeast Michigan that makes folded boxes and revenues have stacked up to about $2.8 million.

Against the advice of a host of business associates, Schamante took over the former Trilex facility located at the end of Yost street in an area characterized by railroad tracks and aging, heavy industrial facilities.

"The first time I looked at (the Trilex building) I turned around and said, 'No way,'" Schamante recalled.

Necessity soon changed his mind. "We looked and looked and looked... we really could not afford the building that we needed," he explained.

So the 37-year-old businessman bought the facility and began a massive renovation project. The roof of the building was generously dotted with holes, the most prominent of which was a gaping space that looked like it could swallow a couple of large television sets.

Eventually Schamante bought the Northstar share of the company.

"I went to Canton and said, 'We'd like to buy this building but we need some economic help,'" the new president of Acme explained.

Economic help from the township amounted to $2.5 million in industrial revenue bonds issued through the Canton Economic Development Corporation. Acme has a decade to pay the money back.

With the help of the loan, Schamante has been able to undertake almost $1 million in necessary rehabilitation work on the building. He has also been able to lease modern machinery used to cut and dye boxes.

The company is still not quite in the black, however. "Not yet. Hopefully this month," the owner said.

Asked if he ever thought the road from company employee to company owner would be such a rocky one, Schamante replied that hardly anything has surprised him except for the "people problems."

It has been a challenge finding dependable, loyal employees, he said.

World-famous vocalist has local start

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

Barbara Morrison makes lots of money doing what she does best - singing. But that's only a side effect after 15 years of hard work in the business.

Morrison is a world famous vocalist. She has been accompanied by several musical greats have on tours overseas where she says her group of followers is the strongest. But fame and notoriety haven't escaped her back home, either. Tune into any jazz or rhythm-and-blues radio station, and Morrison's distinctive voice will soon find its way through the air waves.

The Romulus resident, born and raised on Vinewood, credits her success to her family who supported and helped her make career decisions. Except the first time.

"I knew what I wanted to be. But my parents insisted that I go to college. So I got in my car and drove to Los Angeles," she said.

And the rest is music history.

Morrison has recorded 13 singles and six albums. Her most famous tune, she said, is a song by James Moody, "There I go, there I go..."

"Everybody remembers that song," she said.

ASSOCIATED NEWSPAPERS: Where in the world have you performed?

MORRISON: Well, I just returned from Japan, Australia, the Philippines and Spain. Later this month, I'm traveling to Mexico, Argentina and Venezuela on a South American tour for Phillip Morris Tobacco Company.

They've sponsored several of the tours I've been on. And how this happened is interesting. The president of Phillip Morris heard a song of mine on a New Jersey radio station. He liked me. 'How can we find that girl?' he said.

Since then I've been touring with Phillip Morris. I was an unknown artist and very fortunate. We were billed as "Ten Great Jazz Musicians and a Singer." Every country we visited the response was great. We acted like ambassadors of performing arts. Language was no barrier. Everyone understands music. In fact, the Japanese are learning to speak Spanish, the "in-language."

ANP: Is fame a problem?

MORRISON: Not at all. Like I said, I'm more famous in focus on people: barbara morrison

Europe than here. Not long ago, my cousin called to say she had heard a song of mine on WCHB, which is broadcast from here in Romulus. She said, 'Now I know you're important.'

But Romulus is home. The landscape reminds me of upstate New York. I'd like to move back here. My sister Pam lives in the house where I grew up. People here treat you right. In fact, I'm so glad to be home, my next album I hope will be titled, "New Beginnings," because of my two new nieces. One was born while I toured Australia.

ANP: Name some of your popular songs. Who have you sang with?

MORRISON: Most of my music is jazz or blues. I do show tunes and recorded a gospel album. In 1984, a semi-big hit was "When Will You Be Mine" and "Stand By Me." The first guy I've recorded with was Eddie Vinson. He was great. Johnny Otis called and asked me to cut a record with him. At first I didn't go, then I did. His famous tune was "Willie and the Hand Jive." And on that national television ad for Chevrolet Spectrum, that's me singing.

In November, I sang with the Jazz Crusaders at Michigan State University before one of my largest crowds, 2,000 people. Otis Ology helped write five of my songs on my upcoming album. I sang with Ron Carter, one of the world's most famous bass players. A good friend of mine is Betty Carter. And when I left California last time, Marla Gibbs, star of the television show 227, staged a big going-away party for me.

B.B. King is a real good friend and so are Marily McCoo, Stevie Wonder and Dionne Warwick.

ANP: What about your beginnings here in Romulus?

MORRISON: Hey, I'm a graduate of Romulus High School. I'm the oldest of six children and 37 years old. I studied accounting at Eastern Michigan University before I moved to the West Coast. There I studied acting and music for the first time. I had never even been in a choir back home.

My dad sang and played the piano. He was in group and I remember going to rehearsal with him. I still recall songs from back then. My parents were young and we kind of grew up together. We liked the same music.

ANP: Why are you home in Romulus anyway?

MORRISON: I've got a singing engagement on Friday, May 15 at the Fabulous Latin Quarters, 3067 E. Grand Boulevard, Detroit. There will be two shows, one at 8 p.m. and the other at 11 p.m. Tickets are $10 in advance and $12 at the door. You should come.

SIGN OF THE TIMES

Churches inspire creatively

Everything from bingo to church services, from advertising to wedding announcements. Almost anything the inquiring mind wishes to ponder is visible on the many and varied, changeable signs that dot the landscape and sit in front of the area churches.

"Our sign says 'Christ The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church.' We just took a message down that gave the times of our Lent Worship Services. We basically use the sign for advertising the services and classes," he said.

St. Mary's of Wayne also uses the changeable church sign for advertising purposes, according to Gerry Falkiewicz, secretary and bookkeeper.

"We have a sign telling when the church was established and another telling when our liturgy classes are," he said.

The sign in front of the St. Simon and Jude Church, Westland carried an Easter holiday message throughout the month of April, but it was changed for the purpose of a fundraiser, according to the Rev. Andrew Nieckorz, church pastor.

"Our sign said 'Blessed Easter to All,' but that changed to CSA 1987 Drive Begins May 1," he said.

The CSA stands for Catholic Services Abuse and is a fund raiser for abuse victims, according to Nieckorz.

Women's celebration planned in Wayne

Julia Smith Muir, a speech pathologist and therapist, will be the guest speaker for the women of the New Hope Missionary Baptist Church Women's Day Celebration at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 17. Theme for the day is "Christian Women Witnessing in a Crisis." The church is located at 5403 S. Wayne Road, Wayne.

Rummage sale is planned

Members of St. Anthony Catholic Church will host the annual rummage sale from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. May 15 and from 9 a.m. to noon May 16 in the Father Folta Building, 373 W. Columbia Ave., Belleville.

Parking lot sale is set

The parking lot won't be for sale, but all of the stuff on it will be when the members of the First United Methodist Church host the sale at the church, 417 Charles St., Belleville.

The sale will be staged from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. May 29 and from 9 a.m. to noon May 30.

Tea will honor longtime teacher

An open house tea in honor of Mary Hoff for her 13 years of dedicated service as director and teacher of the New Nursery School will be staged from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday, May 17 in the First Methodist Church in Belleville.

Current and former students and their families are invited to attend. The church is located on Charles Street. For more information, call 699-4870 or 699-3748.

Confirmation set for junior members

Students at St. Michael Lutheran Church of Wayne will be confirmed in the 10:45 a.m. service on Sunday, May 17.

The junior confirmands will take communion for the first time on Sunday, May 24.

The church is located at 3003 Hannan Road, at Glenwood.

Church news is needed

News and information about churches in the area can be sent for publication in the Associated Newspapers. Send materials to: Church notes, Associated Newspapers, P.O. Box 578, Wayne, Mich. 48184.

For advertising or other information, call our offices at 729-4000.

While, no doubt, many of the signs merely convey information about the church, service times and other pertinent information for the congregation, one sign stands out above the rest.

"Our retirement benefits are out of this world," reads the sign outside St. Clements Episcopal Church in Inkster.

The meaning of the sign is obvious, all you have to do is use the gray matter the good Lord provided, according to Patricia Ferguson, parish secretary.

"When you read our sign, if you think about it, the meaning is very clear," she said.

According to the Rev. Roger Aumann, pastor of the Christ The Good Shepherd Lutheran Church in Canton, the sign used there is basically for advertising.

Memorial service honors heroes

A memorial service is planned at the Calvary Baptist Church in Wayne to honor the servicemen and women who gave their lives for their country.

Set for 11 a.m. Sunday, May 24, the service will be tied into Memorial Day activities and will pay tribute to the friends of relatives of congregation members who gave their lives so that the nation "might live."

Nine people will be remembered in the service, including:

- Pvt. First Class Donald Honeycutt, paratrooper, killed May 12, 1968, Anke Province, Vietnam. Son of Mrs. Ara Honeycutt, brother of Gladys Sabo.
- Dennis P. Day, H.M.N. 3, killed in action Feb. 2, 1968, Quang Tri Province, Vietnam. Cousin of Audrey Miller.
- Col. Roy A. Knight Sr., U.S.A.F., missing in action May 19, 1967, shot down over Laos. Father of Roy Knight.
- First Lt. Jack L. Knight, 124th Cavalry, killed in action Feb. 2, 1945, Burma.

Uncle of Roy Knight.

- Larry Melvin Comis, U.S. Army, killed March 4, 1970, Vietnam. Nephew of Jim Buckner.
- Cpl. Ralph S. Gray, Company 609 TD, 10th Armor, U.S. 3rd, killed March 12, 1945. Brother of Issac Gray.
- Sgt. Walter Levan Clark, U.S. Army, killed Oct. 29, 1967. Brother of Marie Clark.
- Wilbert Dockter, radioman first class, missing in action, 1944, Battle of Truk Island. Uncle of Gordon Dockter.
- Floyd Edward Johnson, U.S.N., USS Hancock, killed Jan. 21, 1944. Brother of Camilla Cagle.

The service will be conducted by the Veterans of the church and will begin in the church auditorium and conclude on the church lawn. The church flag will fly at half-mast under the direction of the Color Guard. The tradition of taps and gun salute will close the Memorial Service.

Local psychic looks to May horoscope for answers

AIRES (March 21-April 19) You may be very confused or frustrated over a decision you have to make. You've got an ideal image in your mind, and the choice which will take you in that direction is clear. If you let others influence you to do something else, you'll always wish you had chosen for yourself. This can breed a lot of resentment for a long time. You'll be able to explain yourself a lot better toward the end of May. Wait until then to make "The Announcement." You could receive long-awaited-for news around that same time so hang in there. It's worth the wait!

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Something is resolved once and for all where a relationship is concerned. Make sure you're both totally honest about your feelings in this. If you're not getting along with a co-worker, sit back and let him tie the noose around his own neck and the problem will take care of itself. The others aren't blind. They're just watching for awhile. If you call out the alert, pointing it all out, they'll think you set someone up. Best to just keep quiet unless you're asked. You'll be offered an opportunity to share your ideas later in the month. If you do this without putting anyone else down, you can gain a lot of ground.

GEMINI (May 21-June 21) Something at work may finally get you thoroughly ticked off. Be careful not to act impulsively. You could create some problems for yourself in "teaching them a lesson." Your words must be carefully chosen with your eye on the consequences at all times. The people around you can be extremely helpful, both now and in the future. But they don't ever want your wrath brought down on them so they are watching all of this very carefully.

CANCER (June 22-July 22) You may discover a hidden fact or two. Make sure you don't overreact. There may have been several good reasons you weren't informed. Please see how opportunities are being brought to you through your frustrating circumstances right now. It isn't time for you to make any major decisions.

star sights

rosemary near

Just wait until you see all your options. There's still patterns from the past, then open up to those who care about you and aren't judging you. They will be honest.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) You'll have to make some real decisions about your security and emotional attachments. If you need more education or a refresher course, then do it and stop avoiding a solution. Something has got to be changed and you've got to be the one to activate those changes. Don't focus on who is not around. Focus on the many people who are in your life now and tell them what you need. They can't help unless you tell them. You may feel a strong sense of faith in your future even if you don't know why. Trust it.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Be careful when making final statements that you can't take back, especially around the full moon or on the 13th. But you'll probably be offered something that you'll have to let go of in order to gain something else. It's timely but just watch words that you say all around this. This can lead into a career opportunity that may have to do with communications. You'll draw lots of ambitious people who have lots of encouragement for you. But action is what they do respect, and that could be your greatest asset right now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) A close call turns into a positive after all. Relationships take a strong independent turn while the romance intensifies. This interesting combination is very healthy for a working relationship. In a relationship that is not working, it helps clarify the problems. In any case, you'll be freed from situations that are no-win frustrations. You could have an opportunity to be published or recognized for information you have to share in some way. Romance just gets better toward the end of the month. Let yourself enjoy being pampered and spoiled a little bit, Libra. (Spoiling your sweetie will be a lot of fun, too!)

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 21) You're forced by circumstances to make changes that you would never have done otherwise. It may be hard to see right now, but there will be a tremendous help in there among the thorns. There'll be some real good news toward the end of May, and it could be that last minute reprieve. You need lots of affection and warm hugs. (This is an emotional need, not a physical one.) Don't be afraid to show your real self. It's the most lovable part. Your creative juices are really flowing, so come up with some solutions that no one else has thought of. Someone preaching at you will drive you bonkers if you allow it. Avoiding them will work, too.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21) You've got a proposal or ideal to help the team effort. If it isn't appreciated, take it to someone who is interested in your ideas, because there's a real keeper somewhere in there. You could lose a friend because of a difference over the choices in your love life. If you agree in your heart with the others, don't let pride get in the way. It isn't worth losing a friend over, unless you know they are being unfair. In any case, it's time to have that long heart-to-heart and let all those deepest concerns come out so you can both see things much more clearly. Too much dependency wears you out.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Well, you've had your say and you laid your expectations on the table. Now, the rest is up to others. In any case, your words will stand and there's no turning back now. You're just aching to make drastic changes but the time never seems right. But, you have already started those changes by what you have said to others whether you've realized it or not. You're sometimes your own worst enemy. Rather than criticizing others, do it yourself in a better way. Or, be quiet. Being a critic is easy. Doing it better is a little tougher. Your partners and friends may be counting on you. Don't let them down. There's values in life that cost, price and wages have nothing to do with.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18) Someone out in the world may try to cast doubt and suspicion on areas you should trust in completely. Be careful of those who would make you doubt. Sharing a painful situation from your past can help someone else with their problem. You'll want to work out differences with co-workers before the end of the month if possible or power plays can result. Usually the one with the power wins, so if that's not you, avoid the game altogether. Don't ignore the idea of further education if you want to make real progress this year.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20) Someone is laying down some rules and it's real this time. If you want others to understand you, you've got to explain yourself a little more. Self-image is very important. Communicate what you want, buy yourself a treat and say good things about yourself. Don't allow any form of feeling sorry for yourself to bring your self-esteem down. Electric problems around the home can bring on sharp words so don't let temper get away from you. Your desire for more freedom is affecting your good judgement so think things through very carefully. Too much freedom can leave you all by your little old self - remember no extreme is good.

Area farmers are making 'house calls'

S mokestacks and high-rise office buildings may line the perimeter of his property, but on Don Dickerson's 250 acres of Belleville land, the only products that will be manufactured will be those produced by Mother Nature.

Born and raised in Belleville, Dickerson, 64, has been a part of the rural farm scene since 1938. And, he said, the vast experience he has garnered in farming has given him some insight into the plight of farmers who must till the land and farm the soil while living in the high-technology world of the 1980s.

Dickerson is sympathetic with such national farming focuses such as the Farm Aid events of last year. For, according to the veteran farm hand, participating in a career that has been around since the country was founded has a few drawbacks - financial and physically.

But that's not to say that Dickerson hasn't let a little bit of high technology creep into his business. Why, Dickerson would be lost without his modern plowing equipment, he said, and harvest season would be twice or even three times the chore if names like John Deere weren't present on the farm.

Fertilization is the key to making the 250 acres of farm land a success at harvest time, Belleville farmer Don Dickerson said. At the left, Dickerson makes the fields ready for fertilization. High-tech equipment, such as the fertilizing device he is refilling at the left, is an integral part of his current farming life, even though Dickerson admits that is a vast change from the way things were when he started in "the business" in 1938. Dickerson rents the 250 acres of farm land, and he prays for a bountiful harvest each year. And although he often tires of the workload involved in the job, Dickerson said he has no plans of retirement for many years down the road.

Calm dog's fears with noise lesson

dan's dogs

dan morris

Dear Mr. Morris: We have a problem with our 10-year-old part-Shepherd Beagle. She is becoming very hyper when we have summer storms and firecrackers. Nothing seems to help. She trashed my closet, tearing shoe boxes to pieces, etc.

Any suggestions? Would a deep box with shredded paper, so she could 'dig in' help? The doctor does not approve of tranquilizers unless absolutely necessary.

JANE C. WEN
Wayne

Thanks to Mrs. W. of Wayne for the nice letter she wrote regarding this column. It's gratifying to know we can be of help.

Mrs. W. has a pup fearful of storms. This is a very common occurrence in dogs, and to pinpoint the cause one would have to have stayed with that dog's litter to see the conditions under which it was nursed and weaned and cared for from birth because, many times, this is where the fear is taught. The mother may have been afraid of storms and passed on this environmental trait to her pups.

To eliminate the dog's fear of storms, take some inflated balloons into the yard and go outside with the dog on a leash. While the dog is walking with you around the yard, inflate the balloons. Act nonchalant and calm when walking near the balloons. The dog may sniff at the balloons or act suspicious or even ignore them. In any case, it is up to you to be relaxed and by doing so, convey this attitude to the dog.

After a few trips around and through the balloons, when you have reached a distance from any balloons, have another person begin popping them, one - then two at a time. This is very important. You must remain calm, continue walking the dog even if the dog begins jolting away or acts frightened. After a few steps forward, sit the dog and give a lot of verbal and physical praise. The whole point is to instill in the dog's mind the sound itself is not harmful and he must learn to trust your judgement.

This exercise must be repeated every week - not on the same day or same time of day - to build up the dog's confidence in himself and in you and to create a tolerance to the noise. It won't happen overnight. This fear is difficult to correct but it can certainly be done as long as you have the patience.

After the dog has become "immune" to the balloons being popped outside, do the exercise in the basement or other large room inside the house. Follow the same procedure as outdoors. Ultimately, the dog will be able to tolerate 20-30 balloons (like the sound of fireworks) being popped in the same room he is in without any reaction.

ON-THE-JOB INJURIES

The most common occupational injury is sacroiliac strain. It occurs when the sacrum or tailbone slips from its normal position in relationship to the bones of the pelvis. There is extensive muscular and ligamentous strain. The pain is excruciating and movement of the legs is restricted. Often the sciatic nerve becomes involved which produces even greater disability.

A person suffering from sacroiliac strain assumes a bent forward position. Any attempt to stand tall results in a sharp and stinging pain. This type of strain is serious. If unattended a sacroiliac strain can lead to chronic weakness of the region.

Almost as common as sacroiliac strain is spinal strain, or what we often call a "wrenched back". This injury results from improper lifting, straining when pushing heavy objects and poor working posture. It can be felt anywhere along the spine. There may be an injury to one or more vertebrae. If the strain occurs in the upper back, shoulders and arms may become involved. There is muscular tension and soreness. Any type of motion causes increased pain and all positions, whether sitting, standing or lying, may be uncomfortable.

If you are a working man or woman, an occupational injury could place a great financial, emotional, and physical burden on you and your family. It is your right as an employee to be protected as much as possible in such a case. It is for this reason that Worker's Compensation laws have been enacted in every state. Their intent is to assure the injured worker the best care available.

Specific terms vary from state to state, but in general this means you are entitled to complete coverage of health care expenses incurred due to an injury, and partial or complete compensation for loss of wages.

If you are injured your most important consideration will be the type of care you choose, since this will probably determine how much pain and anxiety you will have to suffer, and for how long.

An important provision of Worker's Compensation which is often overlooked is the right to select the doctor and type of treatment which best suits your condition.

Spinal and sacroiliac strain are only two of the disabling conditions a worker may suffer with as a result of an on the job injury. But since back injuries account for one-tenth of the total time loss injuries in industry, it is the area which deserves attention. And it is in this area in which chiropractic can achieve great success. Chiropractic attention will quickly reveal the involved vertebrae and corrective adjustments will bring about a quick relief of the symptoms and a rapid correction of the disorder.

If you or one of your loved ones are hurt on the job, consult our Chiropractic Life Center immediately. Modern scientific chiropractic procedures reduce suffering, time loss and the possibility of permanent serious injury.

Rear-End Impact

AUTO ACCIDENT VICTIMS

Neck and spinal injuries, as a result of automobile accidents, are among the fastest growing health problems in the country today. The ever increasing number of automobiles on our crowded highways provide the ideal opportunity for the type of accident that results in sudden impact injuries.

Whiplash is the most frequent result of the sudden impact injury. The victim experiences severe headaches, shoulder pain, neuralgia of the neck and many other symptoms which are seemingly unrelated. When the head and neck are violently thrown forward and then backward, one or more vertebrae in the spine can slip out of normal position, interfering with the transmission of vital nerve energy.

Another common injury occurs when a person is thrown from the seat to the floor of a car, or against the car door. The sudden impact will be to the lower spine and, if the shock is great, vertebrae in this area will become dislocated. The symptoms of such an injury can include severe back pain, bladder disturbances, kidney disorders and menstrual distress among others.

As a result of any sudden impact injury, there may be sharp impingement of the nerves and consequent ill effects upon the victim's general health.

With modern scientific methods, we can quickly locate the vertebral injury. Then, with scientific and corrective spinal adjustments, we can realign the vertebrae involved. Even a minor spinal injury can result in an unlimited variety of distressing and painful effects. Many disabling conditions occur years after an automobile accident, but can be traced back to the sudden impact injury.

Our Chiropractic office specializes in treating sudden impact injuries. See us immediately after any type of accidental injury.

CITY WITHIN A CITY

Airport: a world in and of itself

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

Rush hour traffic almost never ends at Detroit Metropolitan Airport.

And while southeast Michigan residents affectionately refer to their airport as Metro, few know little more about this local international transportation hub than the millions of travelers who annually pass through.

Metro is the 10th largest airport in the United States, according to Mike Conway, airport spokesperson. The airport occupies 10 square miles on 4,900 acres of land in the heart of the city of Romulus. The first square mile of property was purchased by Wayne County in 1929 and operations began the next year.

Last year, county officials announced a major $143-million expansion of the facility which includes a new concourse, moving sidewalks and several other substantial additions and renovations, Conway said.

Also last year, Republic Airlines merged with Northwest Airlines to form the third largest airline in the nation and selected Metro as an operation hub.

Metro Airport has come of age. No longer is it a far away place in the middle of nowhere utilized by only a few business men. As area residents increase mobility and airlines reduce fares, people of all ages and backgrounds are using the airport more and more.

Delphine Fairbanks, airport management coordinator, noted, "There's even the world class Marriott Hotel with 166 rooms." Marriott also operates a lounge, dining room and 12 cocktail lounges throughout the three airport terminal buildings.

"The airport employs 9,000 people," stated John Garvin, airport tenant relation manager. "Only about 250 of those are county employees. Nineteen major airlines schedule flights from Metro. There are five commuter flights, and about 20 to 25 different businesses operate in the airport."

The airport serves as a major international port of entry into the United States "with full customs and immigration clearance." It also handles a majority of local business cargo and logs more than 117,000 incoming and outgoing flights annually, according to county officials.

Some businesses service the air traveler exclusively such as car rentals, or the parking lots on which ten thousand cars can be parked. Other businesses cater to more general needs like shoe shines, haircuts, magazines, food, drink and, of course, video machines. Several independent businesses boast a Metro Airport office address. Insurance and telegrams also are available.

The airport maintains a first-class fire department of 35 full-time firemen working on three shifts. Security is provided by the Wayne County Sheriff's department, including mounted officers who patrol the airport roads. Also on hand are two new "deputy dogs" used for the enforcement of federal drug laws, noted Wayne County Sheriff spokesperson Nancy Mouradian.

More than one county official has referred to the airport as a "city within a city," and local city officials with a certain amount of what could only be termed sibling rivalry describe the airport as "autonomous."

And if the airport is a "city within a city," then it is truly a city that never sleeps. People arrive and depart at all hours of the day and night.

Airport officials note crime is not a "substantial problem." However, in the same breath they note traffic problems are increasing.

Modern technology has transformed Metro Airport into a transportation center geared for the traveler of the 21st century.

Growth Area looking to airport expansion

"The construction season is in full gear," said Mike Conway, Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport spokesperson. And he's not kidding.

With $143-million worth of expansion in progress at the Airport located on ten square miles within the city of Romulus, the growing pains felt by the airport extends way beyond its borders.

"It is difficult to find any area in or around Metro that is not somehow being improved or expanded. About half a billion dollars worth of long range improvements are being planned for Metro," Conway said.

This first phase of development includes 30 individual projects designed to accommodate the dramatic airline growth in the Detroit market, according to Conway.

Selected projects include, a brand-new two-level concourse, moving sidewalks, improved ticket and baggage handling areas, a new taxi way, an underground hydrant fuel system and construction of a new Crash/Fire/Rescue building.

In five years, enplanements, the number of passengers arriving and departing, doubled from 4 million to 8 million, Conway said. 1986 figures were up one million from the year before.

"The number of passengers has really skyrocketed. Direct flights are up 41 percent. Much of this has to do with the merger of Republic and Northwest airlines. Certain projects may change as needs change," he added.

International traffic is expected to increase. Northwest Airlines now occupies a complete terminal after three other airlines relocated in the other two airport terminals. The baggage handling area alone will triple in size, thus eliminating some existing baggage problems.

"Metro Airport is an important link within the overall economy of the entire Metro area. Projections show that the potential exists for even greater growth," he said.

At this point, construction is going on around the clock. "It's dramatic and obvious," he added.

One thing he stressed was that airport operations are financed completely from the airlines which use the facility and not "by taxpayers."

Business: Service 'a must'

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

"The competition is good," said tenant relations manager John Garvin at Detroit Metropolitan Wayne County Airport. "Competition is so good!" he stressed.

"But no new businesses will be added as part of the ongoing expansion," he added. Twenty to 25 businesses currently operate on airport property.

Herb Kulzer is the only barber at Metro Airport. For almost 15 years now, he's fought the high pressure take-off deadlines of his passenger customers. He operates one of two on-site barbershops at the airport.

He said business has been slow for the past 4-5 years but has picked up recently. "Airlines have scheduled flights closer together and people don't have enough time between connecting flights.

One of his customers, Charles Kovach of Charlotte, North Carolina said, "I occasionally get my haircut at the airport. With more and more delays between flights, I have the time."

"I used to get more traffic in here. The shop opened in 1958 with five full-time barbers. Plenty has changed since then," Kulzer noted.

Linda Battistone manicures men's fingernails in the barber shop. "I've been very busy," she added.

The airport houses four general type stores which offer travelers magazines, souvenirs and other assorted sundry items. Two stores in the airport exclusively sell candy.

Manager Carol Wallace of Romulus at one of the candy stores, conceded "business could always be better." She said the store sells no particular thing but "a lot of jelly beans."

The store operates the only Lotto machine in the airport and sells over 1,000 per day. "That's really good," she said.

The airport offers first aid facilities, two restaurants, toys, gifts, magazines, instant photos, video games, ice cream and a duty free shop.

An observation deck where hard core plane watchers view landings and takeoffs is often filled to capacity.

"Metro airport is the place to be," joked Mike Conway airport spokesperson.

Sturtz - Wisniewski

Deborah Sturtz of Belleville and Ted Wisniewski of Belleville were united in marriage at 4 p.m. March 7 in a double-ring ceremony at St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Belleville. About 150 people attended the service in which Father Raymond Skoney officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sturtz. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Wisniewski.

The church was decorated with gardenias, freesia, gladiola, mums and white pew bows. Music was provided by Kathy Briggs and Mary Posegay, who sang The Wedding Song.

The bridal gown was long, satin and ivory, with a 6-foot train, high neckline, puffed sleeves of satin and net with appliques. Her bodice was net and satin with appliques of beads and sequins. Her skirt bottom was edged with lace scallops. Her veil was an ivory hat with netting.

She carried a bouquet made of roses.

Maid of honor for the occasion was Christi Wisniewski, sister of the groom and best friend of the bride.

Bridesmaids included the bride's cousins, Rose Laginess and Renee Chameralain-Onsted, and the groom's sister, Karen Wisniewski.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Wisniewski

Best man was Paul Wisniewski, the groom's brother. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Greg and Michael Sturtz and Adam Wisniewski, the groom's brother.

A reception followed the wedding service at Thomas' Crystal Gardens, Southgate. Afterward, the two traveled to Orlando, Fla., for their one-week honeymoon.

They have made their new home on Willis Road, Belleville.

The bride is a 1984 graduate of Belleville High School. She works at Hydra-matic, Ypsilanti.

The groom is a 1980 graduate of Belleville High School and has served in the Air Force. He is employed by Atchinson Ford, Belleville.

Celebration. Come on. They're going to celebrate and party with you. For weddings, graduations, showers and birthdays. And you can be ready to let the good tastes roll by following a few simple rules and regulations of entertaining large groups of people.

The foods chosen for a gathering, as well as how they are displayed, are essential in creating an attractive and elegant atmosphere. An international buffet, for example, can give an instant theme and festive aura to any meal.

Buffets - the newest and most often, easiest, way to entertain a crowd - are a great way to take the heat off the host or hostess during the spring and summer entertaining seasons. The sounds of wedding bells and graduation yells may fill the air, but the real secret of making the buffet a success is in serving an enticing, yet simple, meal that requires little advance preparation.

The traditional three-course meal is often too rigid when entertaining more than just a few people. With the increased interest in health consciousness and varied diets, formal meals can be difficult to cater to everyone's like and needs. Thus, the buffet offers the freedom to serve something that will satisfy everyone, whether it takes the form of an elaborate spread or a simple picnic.

To make your party-serving abilities easier, choose foods that are varied, easy to make and can set at room temperature for an hour or so without spoiling the taste. However, when serving the buffet, make sure someone is assigned to the task of keeping a close watch on the supply of foods. No one likes to watch someone else eat something that is no longer in supply at the buffet table.

Here's a few time-tested recipes that are sure to make the goods times roll at your parties time and time again.

SPICY SHRIMP SPREAD

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
 - 1/2 cup sour cream
 - 3/4 teaspoon cumin
 - 1 cup (4 ounces) 100-percent shredded monterey jack cheese with jalapeno peppers
 - 1 6-ounce bag frozen, cooked tiny shrimp, thawed, drained
 - 1/2 cup chopped green olives
 - 1/4 cup pecans, chopped
- Combine cream cheese, sour cream and cumin, mixing until well-blended. Add monterey jack cheese, shrimp and olives; mix well. Spread mixture evenly into 9-inch pie plater; sprinkle with pecans. Bake at 350 degrees for 20 minutes. Serve with crackers or tortilla chips.

PARTY TIME

Let the good tastes (cook and) roll

TORTELLINI WITH CREAM SAUCE

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, cubed
 - 3/4 cup milk
 - 1/2 cup (2 ounces) grated parmesan cheese
 - Dash of ground nutmeg
 - Dash of pepper
 - 1 7-ounce package dried tortellini, cooked, drained
- Combine cream cheese and milk; stir over low heat until smooth. Stir in parmesan cheese, nutmeg and pepper. Place hot tortellini on serving platter; top with cream cheese mixture. Sprinkle with additional nutmeg, if desired. Four to six servings.

DOWN HOME BREAD PUDDING

- 1 8-ounce package cream cheese, softened
 - 1/2 cup sugar
 - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
 - 2 cups milk
 - 2 eggs, beaten
 - 1 teaspoon vanilla
 - 6 cups raisin cinnamon bread cubes
- Combine cream cheese, sugar and cinnamon, mixing well until blended. Add milk, eggs and vanilla; mix well. Combine with bread cubes; let stand 10 minutes. Spoon into greased 1-1/2-quart casserole. Bake at 325 degrees, 50 minutes. Serve with cream, if desired. Eight servings.

APPLE TEASERS

- Raisin cinnamon bread slices, cut into rounds
 - Mild natural cheddar cheese
 - Thin apple slices
- For each appetizer, cover bread with cheese; top with apples.

TEMPTING SKEWERS

- Red grapes
 - Green grapes
 - Pitted black olives
 - Green olives
 - Cherry tomatoes
 - Kiwi fruit, peeled, cut into chunks
 - Small whole onions, drained
 - Melon balls
 - Salami chunks
 - Pineapple chunks
 - Sharp natural cheddar cheese, cut into 3/4-inch cubes
- For each appetizer, place any ingredient, except cheese on frilled wooden pick. Insert pick into cheese cube.

PORK AND PASTA STIR FRY

- 1 tablespoon corn starch
- 1 tablespoon white wine

- 1 egg white, beaten
- 1/2 lb. lean pork, cut into thin strips
- 6-ounces uncooked whole wheat spaghetti
- 3 tablespoons oil
- 1 garlic clove, minced
- 1/4 teaspoon crushed red pepper

- 4 cups firmly packed chopped spinach leaves
 - 1 red bell pepper, cut into 1/4-inch slices
 - 3 green onions, sliced
 - 4 1/2-ounce jars sliced or whole mushrooms, drained
 - 3 tablespoons soy sauce
- In small bowl, combine corn starch, white wine and egg white. Add pork; stir to coat well. Cover; set aside.

In large saucepan, cook spaghetti to desired doneness as directed on package. Drain.

In wok or large skillet, heat oil. Stir-fry garlic and crushed red pepper in hot oil for one minute. Add pork; stir-fry for three minutes or until pork is no longer pink. Add spinach, red bell pepper and green onion; stir-fry for two minutes. Add spaghetti, mushrooms and soy sauce; stir-fry for 30 seconds or until hot. Four servings.

FRUIT TART

- 21 shortbread cookies, finely rolled, (about 1-1/2 cups crumbs)
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 3 tablespoons margarine or butter blend, melted
- 2 (3-3/8 ounce) packages vanilla instant pudding
- 1-1/2 cups milk
- 2 cups peach yogurt
- Assorted fresh, frozen or drained canned fruits (strawberries, grapes, peaches, etc.)

In small bowl, combine shortbread cookie crumbs, sugar and margarine. Press onto bottom and 1-inch up side of 9-inch springform pan.

In medium bowl, prepare pudding according to package directions for pie, using milk and peach yogurt; pour into prepared crust. Chill until firm, at least two hours.

To serve, remove side of pan; arrange fruit on tart. Makes eight servings.

FRESH COLADA PUNCH

- 3/4 cup cream of coconut
- 3/4 cup pineapple juice
- 3/4 cup fresh lime juice
- 3/4 cup cognac
- Pineapple wedges and whole strawberries for garnish

Combine cream of coconut, pineapple juice, lime juice and cognac in pitcher. Pour into ice filled glasses and garnish with skewered pineapple and strawberries. Makes three cups.

Chocolate cake: The real American treat that can't be beat

If there is one staple of life that proves "Man does not live by bread alone," it has to be chocolate cake.

They can be as delicate as clouds and so light one fears they will float off the plate or heavy and rich, to remind the palate of the intense induction of calories with every bite. It doesn't matter, chocolate cake is, without a doubt, a mainstay in the American diet. Well, in most American diets, anyway. It would appear that apple pie may have been overbilled - to many it ought to be: Mom, the flag and chocolate cake.

But oh, the wonderful differences in this treat. There are chocolate angel food cakes, chocolate breads, chocolate pudding cakes, chocolate rolls and then, the ultimate, chocolate fudge cake.

Here are three recipes for chocolate desserts that will, without a doubt, delight the palates of chocolate lovers or dessert lovers of any age. One is a little more difficult, but the results are well worth the work. Enjoy!

GERTIE'S CHOCOLATE FUDGE CAKE

- 13 X 9 X 2 Loaf pan, buttered and floured
- 4 sticks butter
- 4 squares baking chocolate
- 2 cups sugar
- 4 eggs
- 2 cups chopped pecans or slivered almonds

just desserts

sue willett

- 1 cup all-purpose flour, sifted
- 1/2 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Melt butter with chocolate over hot water. Cream sugar and eggs thoroughly and then add the chopped nuts and flour sifted with the baking powder. Slowly add the melted chocolate and butter, then vanilla. Pour into the prepared pan and bake for 15 to 20 minutes.

Ice the cake, while still warm, with any uncooked chocolate icing.

This recipe is an absolute treasure, and only after having enjoyed the results can it be properly appreciated.

LAST MINUTE CHOCOLATE FUDGE CAKE

- 9 inch square pan
- 1/3 cup butter, melted and cooled
- 2 ounces premelted, unsweetened chocolate-flavoring (2 packages)
- 1 egg
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 1/4 cup flour
- 1/2 teaspoon baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla
- 3/4 cup water
- 1/2 cup semisweet chocolate chips
- 1/2 cup walnuts or pecan halves.

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Combine all ingredients except chocolate pieces and nuts right in baking pan. Beat with a fork until smooth and creamy, about two minutes. Scrape bottom and sides of pan with rubber spatula after one minute of beating. Spread batter evenly in pan, sprinkle with semisweet chocolate chips and arrange nut halves over top. Bake in preheated oven about 30 minutes. Cool in pan and cut in squares to serve.

MY FAVORITE CHOCOLATE ROLL

Cookie sheet, buttered, covered with a layer of waxed paper, and buttered again.

- 5 eggs, separated
- 3/4 cup sugar
- 6 ounces sweet chocolate (Baker's German Chocolate Bar)
- 3 tablespoons cold water
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla (nope, that's not a misprint)
- 1 cup heavy cream, for whipping
- 3 tablespoons sugar
- Confectioner's sugar or cocoa

Preheat oven to 350 degrees

Beat the yolks and the sugar until lemony. Melt chocolate with water and cool. Add to the egg mixture with one teaspoon vanilla. Blend well. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour the mixture onto the cookie sheet evenly and bake for 10 minutes. Reduce heat to 300 degrees and continue baking for another 5 minutes or until lightly browned. Remove from oven and cover the top of the cake with a cold, wet cloth. Chill for one hour. Remove the cloth and loosen the cake from the pan. Turn out on fresh waxed paper. Remove the bottom paper, now on top, from the cake, peeling back carefully. Whip the cream with the 3 tablespoons sugar and 1/2 teaspoon vanilla until very stiff. Spread cake with whipped cream and roll up like jelly roll. Dust the top with confectioner's sugar or cocoa for garnish. Refrigerate until ready to cut into slices to serve.

Romulus stuns old baseball nemesis

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Coach Dennis Stoh called it "his best week as coach." For two good reasons: Romulus knocked off Ypsilanti, the defending class A state champs 7-5, and also disposed of Dearborn Fordson 14-6. It was the first time during his 13 year tenure as the Eagles' head coach that one of his teams has managed to beat Ypsilanti or Fordson.

"After a 0-6 start, you can understand the frustration the team and I had," Stoh said later. "This past week was the best week we have had around these parts in baseball for a long time."

Romulus came from behind twice to squelch the state champs. The Eagles trailed 2-1 after three, then grabbed the lead 4-2 in the fourth. However, Ypsi erupted for three runs in its fifth for a 5-4 advantage. Then, in the bottom of the sixth Romulus came up with the sixth and seventh runs for the victory.

Back-to-back homers by Kevin Wojtyko, with one aboard, and Derrick Anderson's solo blast culminated the three-run Romulus rally in the fourth. In that pivotal sixth, Steve Malgay sliced a two-run single with two outs to seal the victory.

Brian Newcomb, who pitched the fifth and sixth innings, got credit for the victory. He was relieved by Keith Brothers in the seventh. Brothers got the save.

Reliever Jim Clemens suffered the loss for Ypsilanti.

With five batters - Brad Boyd, Brian Newcomb, Jim Kusibab, Brothers and Joe Schuster - contributing two hits apiece, Romulus subdued Fordson. Schuster turned in with a homer and a double and four runs batted in to help reliever Steve Hoinka chalk up the victory.

Stoh hopes his Eagles can maintain the pace and head into the Class A pre-district tournament game at Milford in stride.

"This team has turned everything around and has the confidence, I believe, to surprise a lot of other teams before the season ends."

Heading for Cincinnati

Former Associated Newspapers' All-Area runningback, John Holifield of Romulus, will have a shot at making it in the National Football League. Holifield, a runningback at West Virginia, was drafted in the 12th round of the recent NFL draft by the Cincinnati Bengals. The 6-1, 208-pound ballcarrier is a 22-year-old senior who is majoring in political science. As a prep, Holifield played for Coach Don Foley, and the outstanding athlete also won letters in basketball.

State champ tests Tigers at district

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Belleville has the dubious honor today of taking on defending Class A state baseball champ, Ypsilanti, in their first test of pre-district competition.

And, on a positive note, Coach John Bertz and his club appear as ready as they will ever be for the state champs.

Belleville pounded Trenton 13-1 and 4-1 to sweep a doubleheader from its Wolverine 'A' Conference rivals last week. And in the process may have found itself a starting pitcher.

Junior right-hander Blaine Armstrong threw 12 strong innings during the week and gave up only two runs.

"Our pitching has really improved, specifically, the performance of Blaine (Armstrong) was a highlight last week," said Bertz. "Obviously Ypsi won't be taking chances against us and probably will throw their number one pitcher against us."

The doubleheader sweep against Trenton lifted Belleville to a 3-4 won-lost conference record.

The Tigers exploded for four runs in the first inning that led to losing pitcher Jeff McGregor's demise. He was relieved by Tim Kostreva who managed to shut Belleville out the rest of the way.

In the opening inning, Steve Ostrowski worked McGregor for a walk, then Kelly O'Neal drilled a McGregor pitch for a double, scoring Ostrowski. Bill Ashley stroked a run-scoring single for Belleville's second hit and when Pat Ringwelski also singled and Ashley scored on an error, that was all for McGregor. Kostreva got Rodney Schellenberger on an infield out, but not before Ringwelski managed to cross home plate.

The victory went to Jerry Bitner, his first of the 1987 campaign.

Ostrowski went the distance in the 13-1 victory as he struck out seven and walked none for the victory. Loser Tom Martin was yanked in the first inning after Belleville tilted the scoreboard four times.

Parks, Ford find gold at Wayne track Invitational

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Staff Writer

Displaying the strength that has established them as one of the top prep track teams in the area, Wayne Memorial defeated a field of 13 on Saturday to retain its own invitational track & field championship.

Under a cloudless sky and a tan-offering morning sun, Coach Joe Grasley and his thinclads claimed eight first places and five seconds en route to 136 team points and their second consecutive Wayne invitational title. Ypsilanti was second with 105 points, followed by Westland John Glenn (53), Willow Run (40), Plymouth Salem (39), Plymouth Canton (35), Belleville (24), St. Martin DePorres (20), Garden City (12), Trenton (11), Dearborn Heights Crestwood (9), Highland Park (6). Ann Arbor Huron and Dearborn Heights Robichaud failed to score a point.

Grasley was elated at his team's successful defense of the title.

"Against some outstanding competition, I felt we showed a lot of determination and desire," Grasley said. "The victory certainly provides us with the momentum we need going into a very crucial part of the season."

Wayne clashes with Monroe today and the Trojans, undefeated and state ranked, are picked to unseat the champs on the Wolverine 'A' Conference throne. The Zebras will also join a throng of local and area teams Friday at the Class A regional championships hosted by Ypsilanti.

Wayne received exceptional performances from Dave King, Steve Hearndon and Darrin Tatum at the invitational. Each walked away with a pair of gold medals.

King won the shot put with a toss of 48 feet, 11 inches. Teammate Steve Warner finished second with a 48 feet, 5 inch effort. King also claimed a gold in the discus, winning with a heave of 149 feet.

Hearndon set the pace in the 800-meter as he covered the distance in 2:02.6. He also crossed the finish line first for the 300-meter hurdles, leading teammate Tony Adams to the wire. Hearndon's winning time was 39.1, while Adams had the third best time at 40.7.

In the high hurdles, Adams came up with a victory for his 15.1 performance.

Tatum dominated the 200 and the 400-meter events. He was clocked in the winning time of 22.5 and 50.1 in the events, respectively.

Wayne's final gold was claimed by Derrick Allen who toured the 3200 meter event in 9:54.5.

Ypsilanti earned a first in the 2-mile relay thanks to a 8:15.4 run with the Zebras trailing in second in 8:16.9 thanks to Allen, Darnell Hill, Dave Rodriguez and Hearndon.

Westland John Glenn's Dan Liedel continued to dominate the distance events as the Rocket senior struck gold in the 1600 meter, beating Allen to the wire with a 4:28.6 run. Allen's second place time was recorded as 4:31.

Wayne's 800-meter relay team also was second best with Cory Wilson, Adams, Dave Rodriguez and Brian Nolan who were clocked in 1:32.9. Wayne also earned a silver with Grasley's 1,600 meter relay lineup of Tatum, Hearndon, Wilson and Rodriguez who lost the gold to Ypsi. Ypsilanti's winning time was 3:24.7.

Ypsilanti came back to dominate the girls' division, piling up 100 points more than the runner-up, Dearborn Heights Robichaud. Ypsi had 175 team points as compared to Ypsi's 75, followed by Plymouth Salem 53. Wayne and Glenn were tied for fourth place with 44 points each. Highland Park was sixth (43); then Crestwood (18) and Belleville (11).

Glenn received an outstanding effort from Tanyo Rouser in the long jump. She won the gold medal with a leap of 15 feet, 4 1/4 inches.

Wayne got a silver from its 3200-meter relay as Christine Bayne, Kathy Dillon, Jeanette Brown and Lisa Kunz turned in the second best time of 10:54.2. Bayne also had a silver for her 2:36 performance in the 800-meters. The Zebras' 400-meter relay of Burton, Antoinette Hixon, Annette Hayes and Yolanda Brown was clocked in 53.3.

Wayne was fourth with Pauline Freeburn in the 400-meter dash (1:05.7) and with its 1600 meter relay team of Tamara Burton, Bayne.

Brown, Franchak sign college intent letters

Two notable members of last season's Westland John Glenn's outstanding football team have made their college choices and will be an intricate part of the 1987 college football scene this fall.

Brian Brown and Joe Franchak, named to the Associated Newspapers' All-Area and numerous post-season honor teams, have signed national letters of intent to attend and play football on the college level.

Brown, a 5-10, 210-pound offensive lineman who anchored Glenn's offensive line that was instrumental in lifting the Rockets to the state Class A semifinals, will play his college football at Albion College.

He'll be joining former Glenn teammate, Dan Strehl, on the Albion roster.

In the meantime, Franchak, a 6-1, 205-pound center and defensive end, has chosen Ferris State College to hone his football skills. Franchak will be reunited with Rockets Tony Svaluto and Don Croft on the Bulldog roster.

Chuck Gordon, Glenn's veteran head grid coach, talked about his two stellar grid players' choices.

"I'm very confident that they'll both do well. Everyone connected with the Rocket football program is pulling for their success."

In addition, David Strehl signed with Grand Valley and all-stater, Mike Hammontree, will be heading for Ypsilanti and Eastern Michigan University in the fall.

second in the 100-yard dash in 10.6. Ford's 2:09.16 was the second-best time for the 880-yard run. Teammates Greg Hardmon contributed a second in the 330-yard low hurdles in 41.70 and Jeff Borders was runner up in the discus with a 135 feet, 7 inches toss. In the long jump, Andre Brantley brought home a silver with a leap of 18 feet, 6 inches.

Belleville split with Wolverine 'A' Conference rivals last week. The Tigers turned back Wyandotte 86-41 while losing to Wayne Memorial, the defending league champ, 94-34.

Invitational

Freeburn and Tangeria Pitts (4:37.2).

Belleville was represented in the winner's circle by double gold medal winner Deon Ford and sprinter Joe Parks.

Ford captured a first with a leap of 19 feet, 5 1/2 inches in the long jump. He also had the best performance in the high jump, clearing six feet for the victory.

Parks beat all competitors to the wire in the 220-yard dash, hitting the wire in 23.54.

Parks and Ford each earned silver medals with Parks missing a double when he finished with a six-run sixth inning. Ashley came through with a pair of hits, collecting two RBIs and scored four times, while Ostrowski helped his own cause with a run-scoring double in the sixth. O'Neal chipped in with a double and a triple and scored twice.

In a week that saw Belleville win three of four, the Tigers also crushed Clinton 10-4 at the Ann Arbor Tournament as Armstrong chalked up his first

Huron has high hopes at Class 'B' regionals

The biggest challenge of the 1987 high school track & field season awaits area teams as they attempt to qualify for the state finals.

Belleville and Romulus are scheduled to compete on Friday at the Class A regional championships, while New Boston Huron will travel to Monroe Jefferson on Saturday.

"I believe that we have a few kids who can survive the regional and qualify for state," said Huron Coach Kevin Rousch. "But it is going to be tough."

Athletes must finish first or second in any of the 17 events or meet qualifying distances or times as established by the Michigan High School Athletic Association to advance to the state meet.

In the meantime, Rousch is hoping to see his mile relay team qualify for state. His lineup for that event includes Steve Bartlett, Paul Hill, Larry Swick, and Jon Tackett whose best time is around 3:36.

Trevor Miller has a shot at qualifying for state in the discus, according to Rousch. Miller has had a toss of 136 feet, 10 inches. Huron's other hopeful is Tackett, in the long jump (20 feet, 8 inches).

Huron swept 11 of 16 events enroute to a lopsided victory over Airport. The victory evened Huron's conference record to 2-2 on the season and 3-2 overall.

Tackett accounted victory in his first start. The good-looking junior had four strikeouts and three walks and gave up six hits.

Ashley got to losing pitcher Doren Campbell for a triple and scored twice and Ostrowski had a double and two runs scored. Armstrong also helped his cause with a two-run single.

Belleville launched the invitational with a 17-5 setback at the hands of Ann Arbor Pioneer.

for two of the 11 firsts as he leaped 20 feet, 4 in the long jump and ran a 10.8 in winning the 100-yard dash.

The Chiefs dominated the relays as Bartlett teamed with Ron Rich, Swick and Paul Hill to finish first in the 2-mile relay with an 8:41. In the mile relay, Bartlett again led off for the Chiefs and Hill, Tackett and Swick fashioned the winning time of 3:40.

Huron also won the 440-yard relay with Hill, Mitch Dwyer, Brad Campbell, and Chris Foster who turned in the winning time of 48.8. Hill, Jerry White, Campbell and Dwyer were the winning combination for the 880-yard relay.

Before Saturday's regional tests, the Chiefs have Riverview and Flat Rock to contend with. Flat Rock will visit the Chiefs' track on Thursday.

HOUSING INFORMATION is available for section 8 and subsidized housing, cooperative housing, federally-sponsored loan programs, referrals to affordable private housing, shared housing programs, retirement housing information, landlord-tenant information and referrals to human service agencies through The Information Center, 26807 Michigan Ave., Inkster. Call 422-0405.

HOME CHORE SERVICES are provided for seniors who need household maintenance tasks done for safety and well-being. Tasks include snow removal, grass cutting, installing or removing storm windows and screens, cleaning gutters or attics and more. For information, call your local services to seniors department or The Senior Alliance, 3850 Second St., Suite 160, Wayne, 722-2830.

HOME IMPROVEMENT INFORMATION is available for low- to moderate-income home improvement referral and weatherization through The Information Center, 26807 Michigan Ave., Inkster. Call 422-0405.

HOMESHARE is a service that will work with you, one-on-one, to match you with a compatible person to share a residence. Homesharing is at least two, and no more than three, unrelated adults sharing a residence who have common interests, needs and preferences. It is available to young adults and seniors, singles and couples, regardless of income level. Information how to be a part of the program is available through The Information Center, 26807 Michigan Ave., Inkster. Call 422-0405.

HOME REPAIR is a service available for seniors needing minor home repairs provided that they involve permanent improvements to the structure of a senior's home to prevent or remedy substandard conditions. It includes repairs of items such as broken windows, stairs, railings, patching roofs and more. For information, call your local services to seniors department or The Senior Alliance, 3850 Second St., Suite 160, Wayne, 722-2830.

PERSONAL CARE/HOMEMAKER is an in-home service that includes light housekeeping, meal preparation, bathing, ambulation, cleaning, dressing, toileting, laundry and more. For information, call your local services to seniors department or The Senior Alliance, 3850 Second St., Suite 160, Wayne, 722-2830.

food needs

CONGREGATE MEALS are available at various sites within each of the local communities. The meals are served in group settings such as senior centers, churches and schools. They consist of one hot meal served five days each week to people age 60 years and older or to the spouse of an eligible person. Each meal must provide at least one-third of the Recommended Dietary Allowance for older people. For information, call your local services to seniors department or The Senior Alliance, 3850 Second St., Suite 160, Wayne, 722-2830.

HOME-DELIVERED MEALS are served to homebound individuals who have no other resources — such as family or neighbors — to prepare meals. Each meal provides one-third of the RDA. Seniors must qualify for this program. For information, call your local services to seniors department or The Senior Alliance, 3850 Second St., Suite 160, Wayne, 722-2830.

health care

HELPING SENIORS COPE WITH VISION LOSS is the goal of the Greater Detroit Society for the Blind. Teaching and counseling services are provided in homes of the visually impaired and blind people or in community centers where seniors may gather. To be eligible, seniors must be age 60 or older, be visually impaired or blind and live in Wayne, Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Livingston, Monroe or St. Clair counties. For information, contact the Society by writing to 16625 Grand River, Detroit, Mich. 48227 or by calling 272-3900.

YOU DESERVE A BETTER LOOK AT LIFE

The members of the Vision Institute of Michigan Cataract Support Group are just a few of the many with a better look at life. Because of the outstanding success with their surgeries, they participate with the Institute in educational programs and activities dedicated to the maintenance of healthy eyesight. The Institute is one of the country's leading eye care treatment centers specializing in outpatient cataract surgery, glaucoma and laser treatment of eye conditions caused by diseases such as hypertension and diabetes.

Most vision problems can be controlled or corrected if diagnosed early. In fact, over half of all blindness is preventable. Impaired vision is one of the top three handicaps of people over 65. Regular medical eye examinations are important in maintaining good vision.

FOR THE EDUCATION OF YOUR LIFE

Enroll in the College of Business and Administration at the University of Detroit for an education which will help you begin your career or assist you in moving into a more responsible position.

At U of D we offer both graduate and undergraduate degrees with specialization possible in six different areas: accounting, economics, management, finance, marketing and management science and information systems.

Business studies at U of D offers you:

- A program which is academically excellent. In fact, it is accredited by the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, the nation's only business accreditation agency.
- Flexible scheduling with courses taught by our highly qualified faculty.
- Accessibility. U of D has three undergraduate business campuses — McNichols Campus at Six Mile, Renaissance Campus in downtown Detroit and the suburban campus in Clarkston.

- Graduate Studies. An MBA and an MA in Economics are available on the McNichols Campus at Six Mile. These programs allow you to study with other professionals — people who are actually putting into practice the information they learn in the classroom.

- A valuable network of professional contacts. In the classroom and after graduation you will be part of a national network of U of D graduates — people who are company presidents, chief executive officers, lawyers, judges, doctors, dentists, reporters and opinion leaders in the community.

Get down to business. Enroll in the College of Business and Administration at the University of Detroit.

Committee plans a super birthday party

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

Romulus residents just can't settle down. As the Artrain still lingers as a recent memory, dozens of local residents are expected to participate in the Romulus Michigan Week Festival, May 15 to 22.

And the theme for the festival this year? What else? The 150th birthday of the state.

This is the fifth year Romulus citizens have honored their home state in terms of a citywide festival. And in this case, practice is making perfect.

Highlights of the festival this year include the kickoff parade on Friday, the Romulus Community Pride 10K run on Saturday, Kiwanis Club Pancake breakfast, Wade Shows, youth games, entertainment, log carver, Dr. Ken Boshell, raffles, drawings and, of course, a beer tent.

The Romulus Horseshoe Club will conduct the annual tournament during the festival. And the Romulus Arts Council will sponsor their Third annual Student Art Exhibit on the festival grounds. All art exhibits will also follow the Sesquicentennial theme, officials report.

"Things are shaping up," said Dennis Davidson, festival committee member. "Everything is pulling together. The dance floor, the tables, chairs and tents. Advertising has been mailed. As always, we hope this year will be even bigger and better. It was last year."

Last year, more than 10,000 people from across Wayne County visited the Romulus Festival on the grounds behind the recreation building, located at the corner of Bibbins and Shook streets. And that site will be "home" to festival-goers this year as well, according to Gayle Mach, another of the 11-member festival committee.

According to Mach, new entries have been added to the already long list of festival events. Among the most exciting, she said, is the addition of a diaper derby that is sure to knock the pants off every spectator.

In addition, those who have grown out of the Snuggies will want to join the "Rotten Sneaker Contest," sponsored by Wayne County Parks and Recreation Department. There are no age restrictions as most people have at least one pair of old, ragged, smelly tennis shoes stuffed in the backs of their closet. Don't be ashamed, you might be a winner, Davidson promised. "And if we can't find them in Romulus, we can't find them anywhere," he joked.

Bob Springfield, comedian-singer-guitar player and one-man show, will perform for the first time in Romulus during the festival on Sunday night. Springfield is a regular entertainer at Alexander's in Westland.

"He's quite an entertainer and very funny. When he's finished with his show, your face hurts from laughing," Davidson remarked.

Other entertainment includes Elvis-impersonator Sherman Arnold.

"He hands our scarfs to the ladies, kisses 'em and gets 'em all excited," said Bill Crane, festival chairman.

New and improved

Mayor sees her city with positive change in image

Eleven days of non-stop hoopla are expected in Romulus during the annual Michigan Week Festival. And this year more than ever, the city beckons citizens from all over Wayne County to join in on the fun and excitement.

The people are coming. Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally is sure of it. Coney dogs, cotton candy and upset stomachs are just parts of the fun participants can look forward to during the upcoming city celebration.

"It's one of those things a small town does best," McAnally reminded visitors and residents. "Most people in Romulus know one another. They work together and play together. Their efforts are friendly and positive. Community residents are united by the festival."

"Business people and community residents have also really got behind the festival effort this year. Weather is another factor," she said.

"Not only is there an entertainment tent, but the Downriver Community Conference donated an outdoor stage. Who knows, maybe there will be dancing under the stars," said Gayle Mach, festival committee member.

Local sponsors of the many raffles and drawings include Romulus Auto Parts, Romulus Video and Tanning Salon, Romulus City Drugs, Romulus Hardware, Windiate Hardware, Crova Sales and Service, Johnson Fuel and Supply, Stearns Hardware and others.

"The Wade carnival is always exciting. And everyone looks forward to the parade on Friday. The festival brings people downtown who normally wouldn't be here. Sure enough, they see there is a hardware store, drug store, supermarket just like any city. We could have and do need more. But the image of Romulus is constantly improving," McAnally explained.

The affiliation of Romulus with the DCC and the Conference of Western Wayne, both consortiums of several local communities, has helped increase the exposure of Romulus among local municipalities, McAnally said.

"Now a lot of people know about Romulus. Before they didn't know where it was, what it was or what it looked like. Romulus is making a favorable impression in all of Wayne County," McAnally said with a smile.

Runners will roar in the annual race

By BOB DENYS
ANP Staff Writer

When the runners near the starting line at the Romulus Community pride 10K race this year, they might just find a few hundred more contestants than last year.

Organizers of the race said last week that the event will be "bigger and better" this year, with each contestant assured of having a good time.

Last year, 230 people of all ages and from many communities, several states and even other countries, crossed the finish line during the annual running event. At least 380 people are expected to participate in the Saturday, May 16 event.

The Downriver Runners Club will sponsor the 6.2-mile race. The group boasts of 65 members. It was founded in Wyandotte three years ago by Dr. Mike Simms and Tony Mifsud, teacher and track coach.

The runners regularly participate in the Detroit Free Press Marathon. Last year, the club organized a 5-mile race for the city of Allen Park, according to Nina Derda, race organizer and director.

"I'm just one of several organizers for the race. We hope to celebrate Michigan Week with the residents of Romulus. Maybe this will boost running in the city," she said.

Pre-registration is suggested for the 9 a.m. race. Mayor Beverly McNally and Bill Crane, festival committee chairman, will sound the cannon and fire the pistol to start the runners off. However, early birds can register the day of the race from 7:30 to 8:30 a.m. in the Romulus Recreation Center Building, located at the corner of Shook and Bibbins streets.

The race course winds around the paved downtown streets. Two moderate hills await the runners. First aid and water will be made available along the route.

Entry fee is $7 and includes a t-shirt, refreshments and a drawing for prizes.

"Am I going to run? You bet I am," said Nina Derda.

Other members of the Downriver Runners Club who promise to make the race a success are Gerald Gomes and Jim Dennett.

Bill Smith, organizer of the race during the first four inaugural years, said he would not be running this year because of his duties as newly-appointed principal of Barth Elementary School in Romulus.

History is coming back to life

The annual Romulus Michigan Week Festival emphasizes history, culture and youth all at the same time.

And members of the Romulus Historical Society are not surprised at the successful combination of all three in this annual community event.

Pearl Varner, society president, explained that everyone can especially relate to their own family history.

"In Romulus we're particularly excited about festival time. Saturday will be Heritage Day. This year, we're honoring all local families who have been in Michigan 150 years. And they don't have to have lived in Romulus all that time," she said.

The state Sesquicentennial is the theme of many festivals throughout Michigan. Varner noted that Romulus residents already know how to pronounce "sesquicentennial" since the city celebrated its own in 1885. Romulus became a township in 1835.

Some early families living in Romulus back in 1835 were: Mason Clark, Abner Johnson, Samuel Tobyn (the first area settler), David Gardner and Joseph Pulsifer.

"We know at least these people were living here because they are the only residents mentioned in the

RESTORATION PROJECT
Romulus' First Schoolhouse
built 1839
FUTURE HOME OF THE
Romulus Historical Museum

1827 census of the Michigan Territory Federal Census. Anybody related to any of these people would be a real find," Varner explained.

Currently, historical members are continuing their renovation of the first schoolhouse built in Romulus in 1839. Last year, the building was moved for the fifth time to, hopefully, a final location behind the Morris Post Office, located off of Goddard Road and the railroad tracks.

Members are especially proud of the white pine flag pole they recently installed. The United States and state Sesquicentennial flags now fly over what local residents have dubbed the cultural center of Romulus.

"We're still looking for original pictures of the old schoolhouse taken anytime from 1835 to 1895 when it was used as a school. The school served mainly people in town. We're trying to rebuild the front and so far have found three different types of siding. This is going to take a lot of research. We want the building to be as original as possible. We just want to get people thinking," she said.

Anyone with questions or information is urged to call 697-9628 or 941-0728.

Festival will focus on young and old

Youth, and the young at heart, will be the focus of the Romulus Michigan Week Festival this year. And, as in years past, countless activities have been designed to give those youngsters another opportunity to laugh, smile and release a few giggles.

New events like the diaper derby and rotten sneaker contest have been added to the list of events, but a few of the old standbys like the big wheel grand prix haven't been forgotten, festival officials said.

While Wade carnival rides will again provide excitement and adventure for everyone, some "adult-only" entertainment will be found in the Las Vegas and beer tents.

Young and old are guaranteed to enjoy the annual parade down the main street of Romulus on Friday evening. This kickoff event is followed by the 10K community race early Saturday morning where people of all ages are urged to participate.

Saturday has been designated "youth day," and several special events have been designed to interest young people. Most activities will take place on the grassy area behind Bibbins and Sterling streets, including the diaper derby. Child fingerprinting will also be available for interested parents at this time.

Small Business

Economy is fueled by entrepreneurs

Small business owners – those employers whose work force is equal to 500 or less by national definition – will receive their just reward May 10-16 as Americans celebrate National Small Business Week.

But who are the small business owners? Why are they important? Here are just a few reasons:

General

There are approximately 15.4 million non-farm businesses in the United States. Of these, 99 percent are small by size standards set by the U.S. Small Business Administration. About half of the 15 million non-farm small businesses operate full-time, the rest part-time.

The number of small businesses had increase 23 percent in the last decade. In 1978, there were about 12.2 million small businesses.

The number of small businesses has increased steadily during the past 30 years. In 1985, new business incorporations reached a record 669,000 – 29 percent more than recorded five years earlier. During the first half of Fiscal Year 1986, new business incorporations totaled 300,561 as opposed to 281,740 for the first half of Fiscal Year 1985. This represents a 6.7 percent improvement.

The most recent statistics show that Fiscal year 1986 began as a very good year for small business. For the first quarter of Fiscal Year 1986, small business income, as measured by that of sole proprietorships and partnerships, was $169.3 billion as opposed to $162.3 billion for the same period in Fiscal year 1985, representing a 3.9 percent increase.

Small businesses employ 47 percent of the private work force, contribute 42 percent of all sales in the country, and are responsible for 38 percent of the gross national product.

Women and ethnic minorities have both greatly benefited during this recent period of economic growth.

From 1977 to 1983 – the latest years of available data – the number of women-owned businesses increased by 9.4 percent annually, considerably above the 4.3 percent growth rate of receipts of women-owned businesses which from 1977 through 1983 rose three time greater for women-owned firms than for men-owned businesses.

Minority business ownership – approximated by the latest data on Black- and Hispanic-owned businesses – has also rapidly increased in recent years. Black-owned businesses increased from 231,203 in 1977 to 339,239 in 1982, a 46.7 percent increase. Firms owned by Hispanic Americans increased to 248,141 in 1982 from 220,000 in 1977.

Nearly half of all Federal procurement to minority firms is achieved through the 8(a) program. In Fiscal Year 1986, 4,057 8(a) contracts were awarded for a total of $3.0 billion.

The fastest growing sectors of the small business-dominated industries include computer and data processing services, credit reporting, collection services and the construction industry.

Employment

Between 1980-1982, the most recent period for which there is data on individual firms, small business employment proved a moderating force in the 1981-1982 recession. During these years, small businesses produced a total of 2.65 million new jobs, while large businesses were cutting their employment by 1.7 million. Thus, all of the 984,000 new jobs generated in 1981-1982 came from small firms.

Small firms have also led employment gains through the more recent period of economic recovery and expansion. Between the third quarter of 1985 and the third quarter of 1986, it is estimated there was a 4.5 percent increase in employment in small business-dominated industries while there was no growth among large business-dominated industries.

Under a broad definition – a definition which includes not only persons running a business full-time but also those doing so part-time – about 13 million Americans are engaged in some entrepreneurial activity. These 13 million entrepreneurs represent about 14 percent of all nonagricultural workers in the United States. Part-time entrepreneurs have increased fivefold in recent years.

Jobs generated by small firms are more likely to be filled by younger workers, older workers and women. Many of these workers prefer or are only able to work on a part-time basis (See page 14) and thus can be more easily accommodated by small employers.

Small businesses provide about 67 percent of initial job opportunities and thus are responsible for most of the initial on-the-job training in basic skills.

Financing

Reflecting the relative health of small firms during the recent period of economic recovery, small business borrowing has remained strong over the past few years. While small business borrowing declined slightly during the first three quarters of Fiscal Year 1985 ($70 billion as opposed to $78 billion for the same period of Fiscal Year 1984) small business growth continued at a steady rate.

For most start up firms and "mom-and-pop" operations, owners' capital is the most important source of financing. About 30 to 40 percent of established small businesses relied on owner financing during 1983, the latest year for which data is available.

Other sources of financing include venture capital investors, commercial banks, savings institutions and loans made by finance companies which are secured by working capital assets.

Small Business Week set

The 15 million small business owners in the country will receive special honors during National Small Business Week, May 10-16.

Highlight of the week activities will be the selection of the small business person of the year. That selection will be made from among small business men and women chosen as outstanding entrepreneurs in the 50 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico.

National Small Business Week is proclaimed annually by the President as a way to pay special tribute to small business owners. The first Small Business Week was proclaimed in 1964.

The U.S. Small Business Administration coordinates Small Business Week activities.

SBA Administrator James Abdnor noted that this year's theme is "Small Business: America's Growth Industry," and said the "theme is certainly appropriate, because our small business owners have been responsible for most of the nation's job growth in both recession and economic prosperity. Moreover, small business creates two out of every three new jobs in our country, offers the most job training by far and employs the most young, elderly and female workers.
